LONDON, March 17.—In a thinly-disguised re-proof to Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler for his imperialistic expansion in central Europe, the British government today ordered Sir Neville Henderson, its ambassador in Berlin, to return to London "to report" on the situation.

The action taken by Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain was similar to that of President Roosevelt last November, when he ordered United States Ambassador Hugh Wilson back to Washington from Berlin as a measure of protest against Hitler's anti-Jewish measure.

There was no immediate indication as to the proposed duration of Henderson's absence from Berlin. The German government has indicated that it would consider a "protracted deliberate absence" as a more or less unfriendly move by Britain that could serve only to jeopardize Anglo-German relations.

Brief Announcement
A brief official announcement issued by the British foreign office said:

"Instructions are being sent to Ambassador Sir Neville Henderson to return to London at once to report."

The careful inclusion of the words "to report" indicated that Britain

During the past week, highway workmen have been busy removing snow fences along various highways, and they were rather surprised to-day as snow again covered the district.

There is much noise at "Ye old mill", at Cascade Park these days. About twenty men are busy taking apart, and tearing down that building. Unexpected Developments Have Forced Hitler's Hand Authorities Are Convinced

WASHINGTON, March 17.—America's swift and gigantic rearmament in the air, land, and sea, and in its farflung outposts, and President Roosevelt's bold decision to back Great Britain and France with war planes, munitions and raw materials, has thwarted a secret plan by Chancellor Hitler to deliver a knockout blow to France.

This was the assertion today to International News Service by one of the best informed authorities in the nation's capital on European affairs.

At the same time, this authority further advanced the opinion that it was knowledge of this secret plan, and not alone the present seizure by the Reich of Czechoslovakia, which led President Roosevelt to announce last month at Key West, when enroute to the naval maneuvers in the Caribbean, that he might be suddenly recalled to Washington by critical developments abroad.

Unexpected Circumstances
In the opinion of this authority, who is in a position to keep a finger constantly on the pulse of European developments, Germany's seizure of Czechoslovakia at this time was forced by unexpected circumstances. Hitler, he said, fully intended ultimately taking over what was left of Czechoslovakia after the Munich dismemberment, but this was a mat-

PRAGUE, March 17.—A military display to symbolize the Reich's mastery over its newest "protectorates"—Bohemia, Moravia and Slovakia—was scheduled in Bruenn today as German authorities moved with stunning speed to assert their authority in what once was Czechoslovakia.

It was understood that Chancellor Hitler tentatively planned to witness the military review at Bruenn, where he arrived this morning and to make an important political speech on the significance of the swift-moving developments of the past few days.

To Enter Bratislava
Later the Fuehrer was expected to make a triumphal entry into Bratislava, capital of Slovakia, which yesterday made a successful bid for inclusion in the expanding Nazi Reich, the largest German empire in European history.

Authorities announced, meanwhile, that more German troops are enroute to Prague, and that they are arriving by three different routes. Some of these forces may continue on to Slovakia to accompany Hitler when he reaches Bratislava.

Bohemia and Moravia remained outwardly calm, but there were signs nevertheless of sullenness and resentment among Czechs who grimly watched Nazi police and troops round up "undesirables" in Prague and elsewhere.

Many Arrests Made
While it was impossible to estimate the number of arrests already carried out throughout the occupied areas, qualified sources said the number of persons taken into custody in Prague is somewhere around 7,000.

German authorities pushed the round-ups of known anti-Nazi agitators with vigor, and everywhere

Reject Extension Of Social Security

WASHINGTON, March 17.—Democratic members of the house ways and means committee today rejected the social security board proposal to extend the security act to 6,000,000 agricultural laborers, domestics and employees of religious, charitable, education and other non-profit institutions.

As the committee neared the end of long hearings, the Democratic members in an informal meeting, agreed that there was no possibility of pushing through congress such an extension of the law as recommended by the board.

Missing since the morning of February 28, when he checked out at the tin mill where he had been employed as a roller, the body of Harvey Gamble, aged 40, of 718 Cumberland avenue, was discovered in an empty brick kiln at the plant of the New Castle Mining and Clay Products company, on the Harlansburg road, just outside the city, shortly after 4 o'clock, Thursday afternoon.

Coroner Charles Piper Byers and Corporal William Brush of the Pennsylvania Motor Police, who investigated, believe that Gamble's death was due to exposure and possibly heart complications. Rudolph Kwiat and Edward Hartman, school boys residing on the County Line road, discovered the body while playing about the brick kiln, a large circular vault, and notified Mrs. H. E. Roosevelt Says Czech Seizure Real Brutality

(BULLETIN)

WASHINGTON, March 17.—The United States today condemned the seizure of Czechoslovakia by Nazi Germany as wanton brutality. The statement was made by Sumner Welles, acting secretary of state today who branded Hitler's annexation of Czechoslovakia as "wanton lawlessness threatening world peace and the very structure of modern civilization."

Welles read the statement at a crowded press conference following a meeting with President Roosevelt, who he said approved it in full.

P. U. C. Employees Receive Over-Due Pay From State

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, March 17.—Five hundred public utility commission employees received over-due pay today as the commission's budget for March received the approval of Gov. Arthur H. James.

It was necessary, however, for 26 PUC employees to be dropped to bring the budget figures into line with the governor's fiscal ideas. In February the commission was forced to fire about 200 employees before the budget figures met the chief executive's approval.

Budgets for April and May, the final two months of the biennium, went unapproved again by governor James. Paychecks for those months will be held up, it was said, unless further economies are made on commission payrolls.

Hungarians Occupy Ruthenian Capital

(International News Service)
BUDAPEST, MARCH 17.—All of Ruthenia (Carpatho-Ukraine) up to the Polish frontier will be under the Hungarian flag by nightfall, the Hungarian general headquarters announced today.

Hungarian troops have occupied the Ruthenian capital, Chust, it was stated, and official notice of the occupation had been sent by foreign Minister Count Stephen Csaky to the German Minister in Budapest.

Premier Count Paul Teleki, in an address before parliament, pledged that autonomy and home rule would be granted to Ruthenia, whose occupation realized Hungary's long-sought goal of a common frontier with Poland.

Official quarters denied a statement, attributed to Csaky, that German troops were ready to enter Ruthenia if necessary. They also denied a French report that admiral Nicholas Horthy, Hungarian Regent has been invited to visit Chancellor Hitler.

CHARLOTTE, Mich., March 17.—On his sick-bed, where he is recovering from an attack of influenza, Luren D. Dickinson, 79-year-old prohibition and religious leader, today took the oath of office as Michigan's 54th governor.

The aged public servant succeeded Gov. Frank D. Fitzgerald, who died of a heart attack in his Grand Ledge, Mich., home last night.

After taking the oath of office Dickinson said he would not be a candidate for re-election in 1940. His personal physician, Dr. H. A. Moyer, said Gov. Dickinson would remain in bed for another week. He said the shock of Gov. Fitzgerald's death had made it necessary to order another week to fully recover from the influenza.

Growing Indications Memel And Danzing May Ask 'Protection'

BERLIN, March 17.—With indications growing that Memel and Danzig may soon ask Berlin for "protection" under the Swastika, Nazi Germany today made clear that no "stop Hitler" movement in Great Britain or France can halt its irresistible drive toward domination of continental Europe.

The German press and officialdom maintained a guarded attitude in the face of Britain's threat to recall its ambassador, Sir Neville

Henderson, but at the same time gave evidence that Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler is prepared, if need be, to enter upon a period of strained diplomatic relations with England.

Already Anglo-Germans relations have begun to resemble those prevailing between Germany and the United States, if Henderson is recalled, it was pointed out, it will shortly be determined whether Herbert Von Dirksen, German ambassador to London, must also be summoned back to Berlin "for consultation."

Nazi Ire Mounts Over Recall Of British Envoy

Germany's Attitude To-

GERMAN ENVOY

BERLIN, March 17.—Nazi ire mounted today with the recall from Berlin of British ambassador Sir Neville Henderson and there was every indication that the co-called "stop Hitler" movement in Britain would meet with stiff resistance from Germany.

Early reaction from the Wilhelm Strasse plainly showed that Germany's attitude toward Britain will stiffen to just as great an extent as that of England.

The "recall for consultation" of Herbert Von Dirksen, German ambassador to London, was anything but improbable.

The German government was particularly incensed by the bitter personal attack upon Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler by Alfred Duff Cooper, former British first lord of the admiralty, in the house of commons yesterday.

Duff Cooper assailed the Fuehrer as a "three-percent traitor and breaker of oaths" and charged that his agreements were not worth the paper they were written on. Stern diplomatic reprisals were anticipated.

Nazi circles stressed the fact that the speaker of the house of commons failed to intervene against Duff Cooper's "slander," which was interpreted here as lending official sanction to his remarks. So far as is known, the British government has taken no steps to explain it or to apologize.

As a result, it was said, Hitler probably will make "far-reaching mental reservations" with regard to the former first lord's "insult."

President Says Action Needed On Neutrality

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, March 17.—President Roosevelt said today that developments in Europe in the past few days demonstrated the necessity for action on neutrality legislation at this session of congress. Mr. Roosevelt was pressed by questioners at his press conference as to what form the suggested neutrality action should take. He declined to reply to these inquiries, but referred to his opening message to congress on January 4 in which he said that there were methods "short of war" which could be employed to meet the threat of the totalitarian powers of Europe.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., March 17.—Two Montgomery motorists kidnaped by an armed bandit at a filling station in Georgia, Ala., early today, were found shot to death and tied to a tree 8 miles north of Milton, Fla., it was announced by highway patrol headquarters in Montgomery.

The victims were identified as Clifford T. Mann, 28, district manager of an insurance company, and Charles D. Wilkinson, 24, a friend who had accompanied him on a business trip.

As the bodies of the two victims were found a short distance south of the Alabama-Florida line, approximately 70 miles from the scene of the kidnapping, the crime was declared by Alabama authorities to be clear violation of the Federal Anti-Kidnaping Law.

The Alabama highway patrol called upon federal agents to help track down the bandit slayer. They also requested Gov. Frank Dixon to seek permission from Gov. Fred P. Cone of Florida for Alabama authorities to go to the scene and investigate the case.

Deliberations Of Jury Are Started During Morning

Charge Of Judge Braham To Jury Is Concluded At 10:40 A. M.

FINAL ARGUMENTS
ARE MADE THURSDAY

Eight Men And Four
Women Are Pondering
Fate Of Angeline
Maravola

Angeline Maravola's fate is with the jury. At ten forty five o'clock this morning, eight men and four women left Lawrence County court room number one to be locked up in a small room, there to remain until they have decided by an unanimous vote whether or not Angeline will be punished for the killing of Michael A. Rich, Jr., on February 3.

The arguments of counsel were concluded late Thursday afternoon and sooner than send the jury out to an all night session Judge W. Walter Braham held his charge until this morning. At nine o'clock he started his charge and at 10:40 concluded.

Four Phases
His charge was one of four phases. First a general explanation of what the jury was to do, second an explanation of the degrees of murder and manslaughter, third a review of the evidence and fourth the rulings on the points of the law submitted by the defense.

In each four phases Judge Braham went into minute detail apparently in an effort to see that the jury was fully aware of what its duties are. In the matter of the self defense theory offered by the defense as justification for the killing of Michael A. Rich, Jr., on February 3, Judge Braham commented upon the fact that self defense implies a "back to the wall" situation where the defendant has no opportunity for escape. "The doors were open," said the court, "and the defendant could have escaped."

In the matter of unwritten law, which did not appear but which the court apparently thought might be in the minds of the jury, he said: "There is no unwritten law which permits human life to be taken."

Arguments Thursday
Attorney Edwin K. Logan went to the jury for the defense Thursday. He characterized his client as a Cinderella girl who had slain her Prince Charming when he betrayed her and then cast her off.

"Compare the background of this girl and the family of the deceased man," said Logan. "She comes from a humble, lowly family; he came from a prosperous family. The Rich family have trucks, automobiles, servants; her family is poor."

"Mike Rich wasn't afraid of Angeline Maravola, but when she threatened to tell her father and brothers what he had done to her, he was afraid of that. He knew what trouble might occur, he knew what Angeline's menfolk would do and then he was afraid. That was what prompted the attack, and as he did attack her, Angeline became

President May Lose Some Powers

Congress Opposes Some Extensions

May Not Renew Power Of President To Reduce Gold Content Of Dollar

STABILIZATION FUND EXTENSION LIKELY

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHISON

WASHINGTON, March 17—A major revolt, spreading through Congress today, endangered extension of President Roosevelt's vast powers to devalue the gold content of the dollar and to subsidize American silver producers.

These powers, along with presidential authority to operate the $2,000,000,000 stabilization fund, expire automatically June 30, unless Congress enacts renewal legislation.

To Lose Some Powers

A survey of congressional sentiment indicated Congress will grant a year's extension of the stabilization fund operations but will refuse to renew the other powers. This would strip the president of power to further reduce the gold content of the dollar and to pay as high as $4.64 cents an ounce for newly mined American silver.

There is also revolt against his present power to issue $3,000,000,000 of new money, unsupported by either gold or silver bullion. Some authorities say this power expires too June 30 but administration legal authorities declare it a continuing power, which would have to be specifically repealed by Congress. Two repeal resolutions are pending in the Senate.

HITLER MAKES VISIT TO BRUENN

As Hitler stepped from his train and was greeted by two of the administrative leaders he has appointed for his new "protectorate," carved out of the former state of Czechoslovakia.

They were Joseph Buerckel and Arthur Seyss-Inquart, the Austrian Nazi chief who may be named head of the protectorate with the rank of cabinet minister.

Military commanders also were on hand to meet the Fuehrer, who went to the city hall to be welcomed by notables.

It was expected Hitler would review a large military parade and deliver an address dealing with incorporation of Bohemia, Moravia and Slovakia in the Reich.

care that could wait and be taken care of in good time. Unrest within the Czechoslovak state, chiefly engendered by the Slovak and Ruthenian minorities, instead called Germany's hand and made Hitler move before he anticipated. Cession of the Sudetenland, with its "little magnet line" and natural mountain barriers, at Munich last September removed the bone in Germany's throat—the threat of a heavily armed French ally to the east. For Hitler to have shown weakness by not moving into Czechoslovakia at this time, with Slovakia and Ruthenia seceding, would have been fatal, this authority declared.

Instead the Hitler plan for this spring, formulated many months ago, according to this authority, was to turn unexpectedly on France to avenge the World War defeat and to remove France forever as a threat against Germany's ambitious plan to dominate all of Europe.

The repeated declarations by Germany's leader that the Reich's destiny lay to the east and that it had no territorial ambitions to the west, were held to be a smokescreen to lull France and Great Britain into a false sense of security, slowing thereby, their own rearmament programs.

has no immediate intention of severing diplomatic relations with Germany. It is traditional in time of crisis or stress to recall foreign envoys for consultation, but the example set by President Roosevelt in his case last November has lent this diplomatic procedure a definite time of official proof.

The British labor party rose in open rebellion against Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain for his policy of "appeasement" today as his government wrestled with the manner in which to deal with Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler's sudden destruction of Czechoslovakia. Always opposed to Chamberlain's attempts to pacify the dictators by turning his back on their land grabs, the laborites definitely decided they would refuse to participate in any reconstituted coalition government if Chamberlain remains prime minister.

Shuffle May Occur

There were growing indications that some such shuffle might occur. Anthony Eden, who resigned as foreign secretary in protest against Chamberlain's policy, has proposed formation of an all-party "council of state" to ensure political unanimity on problems of foreign affairs in the future.

away. It was evident that one man was planning to erect some small building, as he sawed the sides in sections, ready to be put together again, in some other location.

March winds—April showers—May flowers! The first part of this has certainly been true for the past few days. March came in like a lion, and Pa Newc is hoping it will go out like a lamb. We won't even complain about "April showers" if the "May flowers" materialize.

Action of frost and ice on the roads and highways in this vicinity has made them noticeably rougher than they were last fall. With spring just around the corner, no doubt the highway repairmen will have plenty to do repairing the damages caused by Ol' Man Winter.

Add signs of spring: the spring fashion previews. This is the time of year when all women, both young and old, begin worrying about what they will wear in the "Easter parade." And this year, making up their minds will be more difficult than ever due to the fact that there are so many new shades from which to make a selection.

Sudden snow storm of the morning occasioned considerable trouble for motorists on the hills, according to reports to Pa Newc. The snow seemed to be just the kind to cause easy skidding.

Folks who always plant their first garden peas and sweet peas on March 17, faced the impossible this morning. As a rule, the weather at this time of the year is agreeable enough to accomplish the task, but it couldn't have been done today.

With the start of spring but four days away, members of the snow shoveling brigade were called out again today.

Ashing crews were hurriedly dispatched to various hills and places of danger about the city this morning, shortly after the snow began to fall.

fearful that he would kill her and she shot him in self-defense. We ask that you acquit her."

Prosecution Argument

Judge J. A. Chambers ridiculed the theory of self-defense in his argument for the commonwealth. He pointed out that the defendant had shot four times, that she had concealed the gun behind a pillow, and that she had shot Mike Rich in the back.

"This was a willful, premeditated murder," said Judge Chambers, and in an instant Logan and Clark were on their feet asking for the withdrawal of a juror and a continuance of the case. The motion was refused.

"Shooting Mike Rich was not the act of a woman in love," said Judge Chambers. "It was the act of a woman who had schemed in vain, a woman bent on revenge. We ask for a verdict of murder in the first degree."

The crowd this morning was not unusually large. The courtroom was not quite full, the crowd apparently believing that the case had finished Thursday night.

At noon the jury asked that lunch be sent in, which seems to indicate no verdict will be reached until at least mid-afternoon.

Four verdicts are possible, first or second degree, manslaughter or acquittal. In first degree verdicts the jury designates the penalty.

This bill, to be offered at the urging of Bonnet, is believed to include provisions killing the 40-hour work week law in munitions and similar factories.

It also was said to call for nationalization in emergencies of all factories and labor resources, and for an increase in credits.

It was reported the cabinet decided not to permit, for the present, any ministerial trips from Paris. This decision was said to have forced cancellation of several contemplated journeys, including a number of proposed short political trips by Bonnet.

Meanwhile, there were reports that Robert Couandre, French ambassador to Germany, will be recalled from Berlin to report to Daladier and Foreign Minister Georges Bonnet. The French foreign office denied these reports.

HITLER PLANNING TRIUMPHAL ENTRY INTO BRATISLAVA

in Moravia and Bohemia the iron-clad control of the Third Reich was vigorously applied.

These same sources also expressed belief that many suicides were occurring.

But while German power was being consolidated in the newly acquired territories, there were signs that Hitler is thinking of the future—and making new plans for his expanding Greater Germany.

Confers With Mussolini

It was understood that before he left Prague for Bruenn, the Fuehrer conferred by phone with Premier Mussolini in Rome for a quarter of an hour.

(In London, British government circles feared Hitler's successes in Europe might be the signal for a joint Italo-German drive for realization of the colonial aims of Berlin and Rome, with Mussolini sharply renewing his territorial demands upon France.)

There was little doubt that Hitler and his aides were in close touch with the situation in Ruthenia, where the occupation being carried out by Hungarian troops was virtually complete.

Budapest's soldiers captured Chust, the Ruthenian capital, but only after a series of sharp skirmishes with local irregular troops in the wild Ruthenian mountain passes and forests.

May Demand Plebiscite

The German attitude toward the Hungarian occupation remained one—outwardly at least—of half tolerant, half scornful amusement over Hungarian military methods. But it seemed likely that sooner or later Hitler would demand a plebiscite in Ruthenia and that, if the voting were against Budapest, the Hungarians would be commanded to get out.

Meanwhile, the Reichsfuehrer and his aides remained impervious alike to the resentment of Czechs at finding themselves ruled by Germans and to the surprised amazement of the rest of the world at the disappearance of the Czech nation in the third of Hitler's "wars without a shot."

In Bratislava there were signs of possible trouble. Rumors spread that German occupation of the Slovakian capital might not be accomplished without some show of opposition.

Reich military planes were reported lined up at Energi, across the Danube river.

After visiting Bratislava, should he do so, Hitler is expected to return to Berlin to receive an ovation like that accorded him after the Anschluss a year ago.

Hitler himself was reported high good humor as a result of his sensational successes. He discussed administrative details amiably with his retinue and was vastly interested in all particulars of the new protectorates.

The latest rear-view mirror works on the periscope system. The image is caught over the roof of the car instead of through the rear window. It is said that this arrangement gives the driver a wider range of vision.

MAKING THE ATLANTIC OCEAN NARROWER

ALTHOUGH Pan American Airways is not yet ready to reveal when its contemplated trans-atlantic flying service will begin, it has followed accepted routine in glamorously publicizing the 42-ton Yankee Clipper, the first of its giant flying boats created for this ocean service.

The 170 government, press and other representatives who this week, in three groups, were given a pre-view flight over New York City, will confirm what is generally known already—namely, that commodious, safe and comfortable flying craft are ready for the sea journeys provided the general public is now geared up to such swift crossings.

There are various questions yet to be settled—routes, terminals, details of British-American co-operation, perhaps subsidies to the American line. These problems will be worked out in good time. Success of North-South America scheduled flying and transatlantic flying has seemed to assure that transatlantic service is practicable. It is good to realize that America is planning such peaceful, friendly and mutually helpful missions at a time when some foreign countries think of cross-ocean flying in a sterner connotation.

UNUSUAL PAPER FACTS

Newsprint paper consumed in the United States in 1938 would completely cover Rhode Island, Massachusetts and Connecticut plus the lower portion of Vermont and New Hampshire. This is the information contained in a report that is soon to be issued by the Forest Products division, Department of Commerce of the United States, and gives some idea of the size to which this industry has grown in the last few years.

With a total estimated value of $900,000,000 in paper and paper products consumed last year, aggregating more than 13,000,000 tons, this industry ranks as one of the largest in the country.

Paperboard production, comprising forty per cent of paper and its manufactures produced in the United States in 1938, is the most important branch of the industry. The paperboard produced during 1938, packed for shipment in an average fifty-ton box car would require one train reaching from New York to Chicago to carry its bulk, according to the Commerce Department.

Boxes and cartons containing food, drugs and milk; checks, paper currency, bonds, notes, office supplies and newspapers accounted for a consumption of more than one-half pound per day of paper and paper products for every man, woman and child in this country during 1938. This figure was 12 times greater than butter consumption in the same period.

It is expected that the consumption of paper in 1939 will be in excess of the 1938 total.

WHO'LL PAY THAT CZECH DEBT? WHY ASK?

Now that Czechoslovakia is "one with Nineveh and Tyre" and Austria, governmentally speaking, somebody raises the question: who is going to pay her post-war debt to the United States? After payments of $200,000,000, the obligation now amounts to $165,000,000.

How about billing Hitler? Don't be silly. True, when a business takes over another firm it assumes its liabilities and contracts as well as its assets. That is both legal and honest. But most modern governments don't bother much about such old-fashioned doctrines as honesty. Secretary Hull has been mailing bills to Berlin for Austria's debts until he's got writer's cramp. Neither "please remit" nor "pay up, this means you" has had the slightest effect. Yet, according to every consideration of square dealing, Germany owes us this $64,000,000.

American taxpayers were reminded Wednesday that they have to pay on the dot whatever their government legally demands. Their taxes are all the bigger because the foreigners have defaulted.

Every time Hitler takes over another of our debtors any last hope of collecting what is due us goes glimmering. Incidentally, Great Britain recently made a combined cash loan and gift to the Czechs that would just about have covered her immediately due payment to the United States—$122,000,000. So the great game of giving Uncle Sam the financial runaround goes merrily on.

THE DUST BOWL RECLAIMED

Within just a few years something in the nature of a miracle has happened in great sections of the Prairie States, whose plight was believed to be hopeless. These broad acres were as barren as the Sahara. In fact, the distant East was made familiar with its condition in a striking fashion when the winds lifted the loose soil high into the air and carried it to the Atlantic seaboard. But, although the skeptics said it couldn't be done, all of this has been changed. The Dust Bowl, scene of so many human tragedies, has been transformed.

A report of the United States Forest Service on the results of this great experiment in soil reclamation tells a thrilling story of many conquests over nature in one of her more merciless moods. The defeatists claimed that nothing would grow in the Dust Bowl, that the soil had been robbed of life and that the great stretches of land, extending through the Dakotas, Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma and the Texas Panhandle, would never again be fit for human habitation.

The report is a story of triumph over seemingly insuperable obstacles. The bleak landscape has been made green again. Sumac, lilac and honeysuckle have transformed the scene. The chokeberry, the elm and the cottonwood, red cedar and the apricot have not only survived, but actually flourished. Some of the 1935 seedlings are from twenty to thirty feet high, and are already protecting eighty acres of farmland to the mile of shelter belt.

This is a major national achievement, both by reason of its immediate benefits and its promise for the future. It holds the hope, and perhaps the promise, that another Dust Bowl, with its human misery and economic loss, will never develop in this country.

The Parent Problem

ILL TREATMENT OF TEACHER

A MOTHER writes from Indiana:

"Dear Dr. Myers:—I am wondering if you will help me. My son, 11 years old and in the sixth grade, is having trouble with his teacher. About two weeks ago they had some kind of a spelling bee and were trying to see how many times they could get around the class. My son, at the head of the line, spelled two words wrong and the teacher said he spelled them incorrectly on purpose so he could stay in the place he was in."

"I have never known my son to lie to me and believe he is telling the truth now. However, the teacher told him that she had changed her opinion of him and made a big fuss about this. A week later she had another spelling bee. My son spelled two words correctly and she said, 'My! how you have improved!' She went on to tell him before the class that she hadn't forgotten the incident, as she calls it, and that if anyone said anything nice about him she would be sure to tell him of this incident."

Should Do Something
"What do you suggest I do about this? I feel that if she is going to make sarcastic remarks every few days, I should do something, but what?"

There are two possibilities in this situation: One, to change the teacher; the other, to help the boy adapt himself, harden himself to his bullying and tyranny, and hope she will

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

AND SPINACH!

A sampling of young America's likes and dislikes may surprise their elders, but their surprise will be nothing compared with the irritation it may cause a pair of European statesmen.

Fifty thousand of New York's school-age youngsters, between six and sixteen and whose families' income ranged from $900 to $3000 yearly, cast their ballot for "the most hated individual." The winner of this dubious honor was Adolf Hitler, who won the race over Mussolini by a mustache. Eighty-eight per cent of the boys' vote went to these individuals, while the girls voted even more emphatically. They gave ninety-eight per cent of the vote on this question to the founders of the Rome-Berlin axis.

Trailing in the rear of this unpopularity contest came Joseph Stalin, General Franco and the "devil."

When the youngsters turned their thoughts to the dinner table to ballot the favorite things to eat, spinach came off with high honors. Both boys and girls voted it their favorite vegetable. This is either a tribute to the effectiveness of education and Popeye the Sailor, or else it's a gesture of courtesy to the part of the youngsters who may have put it down just because it was expected of them. In either event, it is a notable decision.

The spinach vote was an even more significant decision, we would say, than the vote in the unpopularity contest. After all, it is surprising that youngsters should dislike a man who wears a mustache like Charlie Chaplin and then refuse to do anything funny to make them laugh. That youngsters disapproved of Mussolini was practically inevitable. He's the mean man who makes people take castor oil whether they need it or not!

Congress To Have Long Session
Party Splits Seen As Big Factor
Little Progress Made By Solons

By CHARLES P. STEWART

General Press Columnist

WASHINGTON, March 17.—New Deal leaders in Congress want to adjourn early in June. It's good betting that they fail to do it. However, it's easy to understand their desire to do so. The longer the session lasts itself out the more noticeable intra-Democratic dissension is pretty sure to become. Hence, the recent meeting of the party's steering committee to hasten enactment of key legislation and to sidetrack non-essential items. Committee Chairman James G. Scrugham gave out a very hopeful report, too. The meeting was strictly on the q.t., but Scrugham's account was that it was perfectly harmonious. If there really was any hair-pulling, though, he wouldn't have been likely to emphasize it.

The fact of the matter is that not much congressional progress has been made yet with any important business except the national defense program. As to defense, there is little difference of opinion. Not only are Democrats in general agreement; Democrats and Republicans concur relative to main essentials. There are criticisms of the administration's foreign policy, but few lawmakers of either major group deny that Uncle Sam's cue is to arm himself for bear, in the face of a highly threatening overseas situation. There's plenty of objection to his participation in any scrap which may develop abroad, but few legislators fail to recognize that such developments may slip over into Uncle Sam's world area.

Concerning domestic problems there is no similar degree of unanimity—as between Democrats and Republicans or as between Democrats and Democrats.

Split-up Democrats
The truth is that the Democrats already badly split, are re-splitting. There are the New Deal Democrats.

There are the Old Deal Democrats.

The administration is making concessions to the Old Dealers. Many of the New Dealers resent these concessions. Many of the Old Dealers consider said concessions insufficient.

Thus the Old and New Dealers are split. The New Dealers are internally split, as between concessions and no concessions. And the Old Dealers are split, as between conceding concessions and not conceding them. All this is lovely from the G. O. P. standpoint. The drawback is that the Republicans realize that they aren't offering anything particularly satisfactory.

Representative Bruce Barton syndicated a story the other day that's a good one to quote. Somebody asked an old lady how the Methodist church in her neighborhood was doing. "Not so well," answered the old lady, "but, thank God, the Presbyterians aren't doing any better."

"Ditto the Democrats. They're not doing very well, but the Republicans aren't doing any better."

Incidentally, many chroniclers have reported a chorus of acclaim for Thomas E. Dewey as a G. O. P. presidential candidate in 1940. I haven't heard such unanimity of applause for him. It's conceded that he's in the limelight, but he doesn't strike me as being so overwhelmingly popular. The complaint seems to be that he's smart. Pictures of him don't make a hit. He looks fresh, opponents say. It's no kind of a size-up, but it counts politically.

Back to Foreign Affairs
But to return to foreign affairs! The State Department has been congratulating itself that the Spanish danger is over.

But is it?

Spain has been licked before—by the Romans, by the Moors, by Napoleon. But it never had STAYED licked. Now it's licked, principally, by the Italians. Nominally it's squelched. It's record is that so far, it has resorted to guerrilla warfare and won in the end.

If this rumour finally is over, it will be unusual for Spain.

And it will be an international headache while it lasts.

What Noted People Say

(International News Service)
NEW YORK—Bishop Francis J. McConnell criticized Premier Neville Chamberlain for the Munich pact.

"Chamberlain is about my age and I wouldn't be satisfied to have peace in my time when there isn't very much time left."

CHICAGO—Dr. Eduard Benes still sees hope for what was once Czechoslovakia.

"The struggle for freedom of the individual has always won out against brute force and it will not be different with today's brute force and oppression."

NEW YORK—Finnish minister Hjalmar Johen Procopé says Finland will continue her strict neutrality policy.

"We have always looked at the United States as the country of freedom and the Finnish people are inspired by the same ideals as the American nation."

CHICAGO—Dr. Thomas Mann says democracy will have to fight to live.

"Once a revolution, democracy is today the greatest conservative power on earth. But if it is to win it cannot merely be, it must give battle."

NEW YORK—Elsie Janis celebrates a birthday.

"It's wonderful to be 50 and at peace with the world."

The Great Game Of Politics

By FRANK R. KENT

Still Closely Linked

WASHINGTON, March 17. FOR nearly six years the outstanding political alliance in the country has been the one between Mr. Roosevelt and the C. I. O. Through that organization was made the greatest single financial contribution—upward of $500,000—ever recorded in a Presidential campaign.

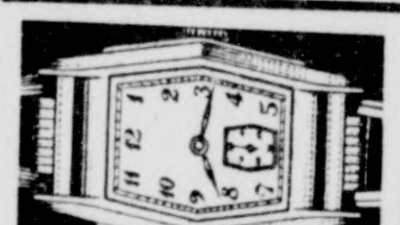

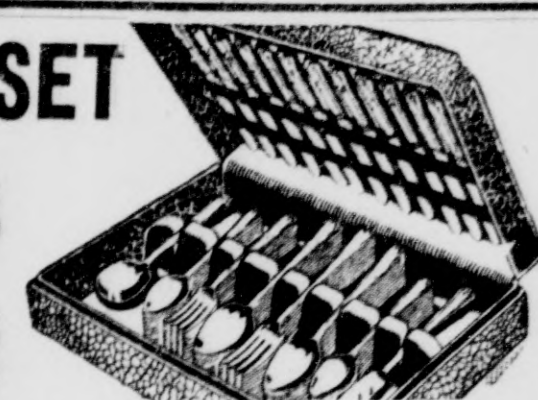

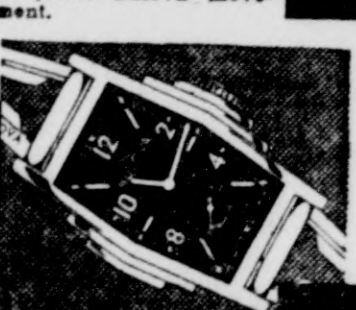

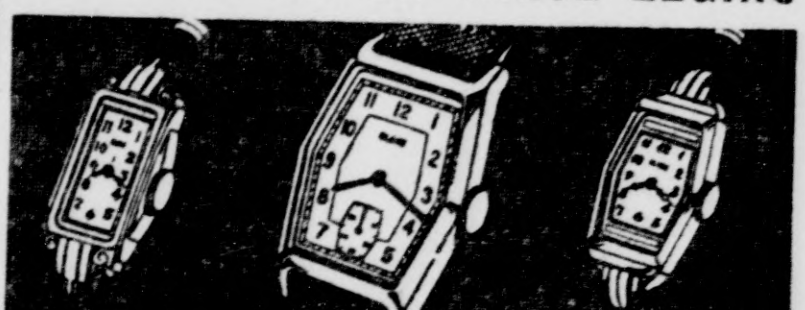

UNQUESTIONABLY, the C. I. O., now weakened by its Communist taint and political reverses, has done much politically for the President in the past. But the President has done just as much for it. For many months he permitted unrehearsed use of his name on C. I. O. literature in its membership drive. Without him the organization could not have been built up nor Mr. Lewis' prestige created. In addition, he named a Labor Board, which the other labor faction denounces as dominated by the C. I. O. and as operating exclusively in its interests. In brief, the New Deal and the C. I. O. have been and are closely linked. Its support of Mr. Roosevelt has been complete; his support of it no less.

THESE facts, which could be buttressed with many others, are sufficient to explain why there does not come from Mr. Roosevelt or Mr. Hopkins or Mr. Morgenthau or Madame Perkins or any other Administration aide, agent or adviser any support whatever for the effort to amend the Wagner Labor Act, whose manifest lopsided nature and unfair administration have been the cause of greater and more general complaint than almost any other single piece of New Deal legislation since 1933.

ALTHOUGH relief from the arbitrary provisions of this act are desired by business generally, although the demand comes from the A. F. of L. as well as from industry, although its modification would do more to stimulate business confidence than anything else and, although the Administration vociferously proclaims its anxiety to help business, not one move in this direction has been—or apparently will be—made. On the contrary, so far as there is any outward sign, the White House is behind Mr. Lewis in his resistance to any amendment whatever, and until yesterday the peace negotiations initiated by the President were being used skillfully to prevent action.

THE idea advanced by the C. I. O., that there was no use holding the scheduled hearings on the pending amendments while the negotiations were going on, Madame Perkins lent support to that suggestion and Chairman Thomas of the Senate committee made the announcement. Only the vigorous protest of the A. F. of L. changed his position, which would have meant the side-tracking of all amendments until next year. Now the hearings are to be resumed, but if action is taken, it clearly will be in spite of the C. I. O.-White House alliance. In the light of these facts it is not surprising that skepticism of the business appeasement drive grows apace.

Policy Of W. P. A. May Be Changed

Consider Possibility Of Job Rotation To Aid Waiting List

SUB-COMMITTEE STUDIES PROGRAM

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, March 17. — A drastic shake-up in WPA policy, which calls for rotation of jobs in order to give those on the waiting list a square deal, was considered today by the House Appropriations Deficiency Sub-Committee studying a proposed $150,000,000 emergency fund bill.

Col. F. C. Harrington, WPA administrator, endorsed the policy in testimony in a secret session of the sub-committee, members said.

The proposal developed from the disclosure that many persons have been on WPA rolls for years while, at the present, there is a waiting list of 850,000 persons clamoring for jobs.

Harrington, one member said, invited congress to write into law a mandate for rotation of jobs. He said it would not be feasible to make the rotation every few weeks because of the huge administrative expense involved. One proposal discussed was placing a limit of one year on WPA employment so long as persons on a waiting list were seeking jobs.

Sub-committee members continued to question Harrington and other WPA officials in preparation for a report on the president's request for $150,000,000 for WPA. They demanded a complete list of administrative employees and salaries, charts showing cost of various projects and the exact method of any reduction that may be ordered in WPA by congress.

Harrington, according to members, said that he planned to reduce the WPA by projects instead of considering individual needs of WPA workers, if congress adopts an economy policy and reduces or denies the $150,000,000 fund needed to continue the WPA program until June 30.

Economy-minded members indicated that they would compile a mandate to the WPA to consider the need of dismissing workers with a proposal to reduce the $150,000,000 request.

Wessell, Propagation Chief

When members of the Lawrence County Sportsmen's banquet in the Cathedral, March 30, they will hear a galaxy of speakers, men who know wild life thoroughly.

They will be Ross Leffler, game commission; Charles French, fish commission; and Charles Wessell, chief of propagation for state game farms.

In addition the banqueters will see pictures in color of wild life scenes as displayed by Robert Lamberton, game commission, and Randolph Thompson, State college representative of the game commission.

Declares Modern Girls Want Jobs And Not Careers

(International News Service)

ITHACA, N. Y.—Modern girls don't want careers, they want jobs, says Esther Stocks, in charge of vocational placement at the New York State College of Home Economics, Cornell university.

The old days when women struggled to choose between marriage and a career are gone, she adds. Today, girls want a balanced life, perhaps with a job—not a career—which they enjoy, and which does not absorb all of their time and interests.

At the college six students are studying in a first and experimental course, which includes the history of women in vocations and education; thus the students may learn how and where modern women fit into business.

Study Selves First. After studying themselves to find their own aptitudes and skills, and their likes and dislikes, they can learn about types of occupations of college-trained women, the kind of interests and abilities needed, and the qualities they themselves can offer.

In addition to this each girl studies several occupations in her chosen field to learn what the work requires and what it offers. She talks with persons already in the work, studies books and magazines on the subject, and learns what each job takes and gives; and, equally important, she learns how to find the same information about any other job.

Knowing the kind of jobs for which they are suited is not enough, the girls also practice in writing letters of application, and learn how to act and what to say in an interview, Miss Stocks says.

Tall, thin persons need more sleep than short and stocky persons.

Wade C. Smith Will Give 'Jett' Sketch

Rev. Wade C. Smith, for 20 years a lesson writer for the Sunday School Times, originator of "Little Jett" and "Say Fellows" columns, is being heard with great interest in a series of meetings at the Highland U. P. church on the North Hill.

Tonight Rev. Smith is going to "Jett" (present in drawings) the life of a prominent New Castle citizen. The prelude to the service will be by Mrs. Jay L. Reed and Joe Vogan at organ and piano. The girls choir directed by Robert Duff, will sing.

LAY NEW LINE

An additional 225 feet of four inch pipe has been laid by the Manufacturers Light & Heat company, this week along Northview avenue.

TROOP 10

Girl Scouts of troop 10 held their meeting on March 13 in St. Paul's Lutheran church. Patrol corners were held in which durs were collected, after which interest groups were held and the girls worked on their projects.

Plans have been made to go to a play, being presented at the Senior high school Friday evening at eight o'clock. Mothers, fathers and friends have been invited. Plans have also been made for an observation tour in the near future.

The next meeting will be at the same place on Monday, March 20. Scribe, Dorothy Karna.

FLASH! THOUSANDS CHEER AS THEY SEE HOW NEW HIGH-TEST OXYDOL WASHES WHITE CLOTHES UP TO 25% WHITER

TORTIFIED by a new "miracle" ingredient, High-Test OXYDOL does these amazing things, in independent laboratory tests against less efficient bar and package soaps:

(1) Gets white clothes up to 25% whiter than even well-known, advertised soaps that lack the remarkable new ingredient High-Test Oxydol contains. (2) Gives up to twice the suds—suds that stand up 2 to 3 times longer.

Yet new High-Test Oxydol is SAFE for washable colors, safe for fabrics and hands. What's more, High-Test Oxydol soaks dirt loose in 10 minutes. NO BOILING, NO SCRUBBING. Even tough spots come clean with a few quick rubs.

High-Test OXYDOL is economical, too. Each cup goes up to one-fourth again as far—does up to 25% more work—as the same amount of less efficient soaps. Try it, today. At all dealers, Procter & Gamble.

Third Anniversary Of Greatest Pittsburgh District Flood

Some Protection Now Provided

Construction Of Some Flood Prevention Dams Now Under Way

FAR FROM MEETING SITUATION HOWEVER

By ALLAN J. FUNCH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

PITTSBURGH, March 17.—The third anniversary of the greatest flood ever to inundate western Pennsylvania today finds the Monongahela valley protected from two feet of flood waters and the Allegheny valley with practically no protection at all, according to latest reports by United States army engineers.

Three years ago today—St. Patrick's Day—waters sweeping down the Monongahela and Allegheny rivers met at Pittsburgh's "Point" and formed a crest of 46 feet—the highest flood level ever recorded in this area. Millions of dollars damage was inflicted by the uncontrollable, swift surge of flood waters.

Flood Control Act
One month later the flood control act of 1936 was passed by congress and plans to build 10 flood control dams, eight in the Allegheny valley, two in the Monongahela river basin, got underway.

Of these, one dam has been completed and is in actual operation. That is the Tygart dam, which, it was estimated by engineers, will take two feet of water from a flood crest in the Monongahela valley. It is to be dedicated August 9. Of the other structures, three—Tionesta, Crooked creek and Mahoning creek—are under construction.

A design of the Loyahanna creek reservoir dam is in progress and it is expected construction on this project will be started before June 30, the end of the engineers' fiscal year.

When completed, the system of dams will care for eight feet of water. That is, on a 46-foot crest such as occurred in 1936, the dams would actually take off the top eight feet and the water would run at 38 feet. Flood level is 25 feet.

Would Prevent Damage
Col. William E. R. Covell, head of the army engineers in this area, has explained that taking off eight feet of water from the 1936 flood crest would have meant a saving of approximately $17,000,000 in damage.

Since 1854, the beginning of continuous records, western Pennsylvania has experienced no less than 100 floods, ten of which have been of major proportions.

While the system of dams, when completed, is designed to eliminate ordinary to intermediate floods, it does not offer a complete solution to flood problems in that the so-called superfloods will not be entirely controlled, the engineers admit.

College Debaters Go To Penn State

Westminster Team Will Take Part In College Debaters Forum

(Special To The News)
NEW WILMINGTON, March 17.—Six Westminster college debaters left today for Penn State, where they will participate in the Penn State college debaters' forum, March 17-18, in the form of a mock convention where college groups will present resolutions for legislative bills and defend their points of view.

Paul Thomas, Erie, and Glenn Loiz, McKeesport, will present a resolution concerning "academic freedom," and other Westminster debaters will defend the resolution: Charles Gloth, Erie; Betty Curry, Valencia; Elwin Fuller, Erie and Jane McKee, Groveton.

Other questions upon which resolutions will be drawn up are "American Isolation from European Affairs," and "depression solving." Accompanying the Westminster debaters will be Mrs. Glenn Taylor, debate coach.

Farm Youths Are Advised Of Coming Livestock Exhibit

Plans Have Been Outlined For Annual Show At Pittsburgh For District Youths

The Seventh Annual Pittsburgh Livestock Show will be held in the Pittsburgh stock yards, Pittsburgh, Pa., October 17-18, 1939, according to an announcement released by G. G. Sharpless, chairman of the show.

Ribbons and cash prizes will be awarded farm boys and girls between the ages of 10 and 20 years who have prepared their beavers, lambs and hogs for the occasion. Ribbons will be awarded to adults showing in the open classes.

Anyone is eligible to make entries in the show who resides within the territory from which live stock is shipped to the Pittsburgh market. All animals will be sold at auction on the last day of the show.

Classes in the Junior division include those for steers or heifers weighing 950 pounds and under, steers weighing over 950 pounds, individual fat lambs, pens of three fat lambs, and individual fat barrows. Classes for ribbon awards only in the Adult Division include those for individual steers and trigs of steers, pens of 10 and pens of 25 fat lambs, and pens of 3 fat barrows.

Cash awards in the Junior Cattle Division will be augmented by special prizes offered by the American Short Horn Association, Hereford Association, Aberdeen Angus Association, and others interested in the production of better meat animals.

Completed details may be secured from the Lawrence County Agricultural Extension office, vocational agricultural teachers, or by writing to G. G. Sharpless, chairman, Pittsburgh Live Stock Show, Inc., Pittsburgh Joint Stock Yards, Pittsburgh, Pa.

GNCA Primary Progresses; General Election March 25

Throughout New Castle this week the marking of ballots in clubrooms, lodges offices, stores and homes announces that the first annual primary election of the Greater New Castle Association is under way.

A total of 944 subscribers, all eligible voters, must return the marked ballots to the GNCA office by March 20. The primary total will be tabulated March 21, announced to the public March 22 and then on March 25 the subscribers will mark their general election ballots.

With all the primary blanks went out complete lists of all subscribers who qualify for election in the particular division to which a subscriber belongs. They were asked to vote for eight representatives—the two winning the most votes will be directors and the six remaining will be advisory council members.

Henry Fonda Makes Remarkable Abe Lincoln

By MILTON HARKER
(Copyright, 1939)
(International News Service)

HOLLYWOOD, March 17.—A dime's worth of plastic rubber and a nickel's worth of grease-paint are sole requirements to turn Henry Fonda into the most remarkable young Abraham Lincoln you ever saw.

Fonda, who has played many homespun roles on the stage and screen, has an angular face and all the make-up experts have to do is make him a new nose and paint a few lines here and there to accentuate features.

He makes a remarkable impression on everyone at 20th Century-Fox as he starts work on "The Young Mr. Lincoln," which begins when Lincoln is 22 and covers the period from 1831 to 1837. The picture brings to the screen a little touched phase of Lincoln's life, the time when he was a storekeeper at New Salem, Ill., and decided to study law because he found a volume of Blackstone among articles he had taken in barter for food.

One of the high lights of the film will be his defense of two brothers on trial for murder. The idea of the picture originated with Kenneth MacGowan, prominent producer and a student of Lincoln's life. He finally convinced Darryl Zanuck it was worth an investment of $1,500,000.

Now that the production is under way Fonda, selected for the role after careful study, has an opportunity for characterization such as won fame for Paul Muni, who brought Emilie Zola and Louis Pasteur to the screen as living men.

The first scenes are being shot on a studio reproduction of New Salem, built on the golf course of the back lot. There is Lincoln's store and a half dozen log cabins. John Ford, the director, has picked the residents with care because he's going back more than a century.

There is one unique point about this movie story of Lincoln. It was written by a southerner, Lamar Trotti, born and bred in Atlanta and a graduate of the University of Georgia.

The problem of Jane Withers growing up is not worrying her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Withers. They are just letting her grow up. Jane will be 13 on April 12. Both on and off the screen she is wearing longer dresses. In her new picture, "Boy Friend," she has her first puppy love affair and gets kissed for the first time, by George Ernest, who is 16, and is best known for his work in the Jones family pictures.

Jane will start her next picture in four or five weeks. It's tentatively titled "The Texas Kid" and shows her as a high school student. As a matter of fact, she is in the eighth grade, the middle grade of junior high school.

This year may find Jane having a real birthday party. She hasn't had one in several years. If she does, she'll invite all the other young stars in Hollywood.

The regular meeting of the Business and Professional Women's club will be held on Monday evening March 20, at 5:45 p. m. in the Green Room of the Y. W. C. A. Mrs. R. Fredericks Roberts will speak on the subject "Recent Legislation Affecting the Status of Women."

The Legislative committee, of which Miss Olivia Griffiths is chairman, is in charge of the meeting.

Formal Opening Of Power Plant To Be Arranged

In Meantime Visitors Are Asked Not To Go To New West Pittsburgh Plant

With the assembling of mechanical equipment and the connection of electric controls, construction at the Pennsylvania Power Company's new plant is entering into its final phase preparatory to its actual operation.

Due to the construction hazards in the plant and to the nature of the work of assembling and connection, the Company requests the public to refrain from visiting the plant until the formal opening, which will be held after it is in operation. "We are proud of the new plant," L. B. Round, Vice President of the Company, said this morning, "and we want people to visit it. During the next few months however, while the job of assembling and testing is going on, we prefer that people who have no specific business at the plant defer their visit until such time as this work has been completed."

According to present plans, an opening celebration and inspection of the plant will be held sometime during the month of June, when the public generally will be invited and various displays will present detailed and interesting explanations of the plant operation, as well as other phases of the electrical industry.

The court house has looked like a county fair this week. Corridors crowded, porch crowded, and the court room looking like the proverbial saradine can. Trials in which there is any element of spice or smut still packs 'em in and this week the court room has been playing to capacity.

The payoff came when people started coming at four o'clock on Thursday morning in order to have a seat when court convened at nine. A lot of the folks carried their lunches and sat right through the noon recess.

One thing that has been outstanding has been the order preserved. Sheriff M. M. Ingham had special deputies on duty in the halls and they saw to it that the crowd did not clog the passageways. There was no fuss about it, just a quiet bit of enforcement that was done well. In the court room the same de-

Annual Meeting Of Hotel
Stockholders Held On Thursday Night

BUSINESS SHOWS INCREASE, REPORT

Directors of the New Castle Hotel Association, the operating company of the Castleton Hotel, were elected Thursday night when the annual meeting was held. A fair crowd of stockholders attended while others were represented by proxy.

The meeting was conducted by President P. J. Flaherty, and reports upon the condition of the hotel were heard. In spite of a drop in gross receipts in 1938 over 1937, a condition suffered by practically every hotel in the country, the Castleton showed a net profit after all fixed charges were deducted.

The hotel is showing an increase in business just now and with the tourist season not far away business is expected to increase much more. Directors elected include the following: P. J. Flaherty, Preston Flaherty, Fred L. Rentz, Max Donnelly, George T. Weingartner, O. P. Brown, Charles H. Johnson, Jr., James K. Love, Robert C. Love, Frank P. Olfitt, Thomas H. Hartman and A. C. Hoyt.

Mercer Legionnaires Observe Anniversary

Attorney William J. Caldwell of this city was the principal speaker at the banquet of the Mercer American Legion Post, in the Legion Home at Mercer last evening.

An excellent dinner was prepared and served by the Auxiliary. Among the guests were Howard Hammond, of this city, who was the second commander of the Mercer post, and his wife; District Commander Hanson, of Warren, Pa.; and County Commander John R. Marett, of Volant.

If taxes were cut in half, the resulting savings would be equal to about $5 a week for each family.

The Human Side Of The News

(By EDWIN C. HILL)

Copyright 1939 King Features Syndicate, Inc.

The day of the good old St. Patrick—and a gentleman he was and born of decent people—swings round again, bringing to this report many vivid memories of St. Patrick's Days which have receded far into the past. Comical, joyous, tragic, many of them. Portly Tammany leaders astride on portly steeds, gorgeously plumed and belashed. Stirring banquets in old Delmonico's. A great number of bands and everywhere the mournful, nostalgic strains of "The Wearing of the Green".

But I am reminded of one St. Patrick Day and St. Patrick's procession up Fifth avenue that New York will never forget. And that was the St. Patrick's Day parade of March 17, 1869, just 40 years ago today. That parade was never finished, because the Irish, all so proud and grand in their tall hats and tail coats, broke out of line to save life.

The clocks had just struck three that dark day. From curb to curb, Fifth avenue was jammed with sightseers and paraders. Mr. Jay Gould, the celebrated Wall Street operator, stood at the window of his fine brownstone mansion at the northeast corner of Fifth avenue and Forty-seventh street and looked on with interest. Directly across the avenue from the Gould mansion was the eight-story Hotel Windsor, whose builder had committed suicide years before.

It was, I say, only a minute or two past 3 o'clock when Mr. Jay Gould's cook saw smoke curling up from the Hotel Windsor's roof. It turned out later that John Foy, a waiter in the hotel, had seen a guest whose name he did not know, light a cigarette and toss the still-burning match into a lace curtain. It blazed up like so much powder and John Foy's wild shout of "Fire!" echoed even above the blaring bands and the thumping drums outside.

It was a fatal day. All things seemed to conspire for tragedy. John Foy, running to a firebox to get a policeman and told him that he couldn't get through the crowd. It cost two minutes before he could make the policeman understand that it was a matter of life and death. Those two minutes did the trick. And everything began to happen at once.

Charley Mullins, newspaper photographer, taking shots of the parade, saw smoke and then flames leap from the Windsor's windows.

IF YOU FEEL SUNK Read this and cheer up

Are you so blue that life is no longer worth living? Do you cry easily? Do you feel low, mean, depressed—just absolutely SUNK?

Then here's good news for you in case you need a good general system tonic—just take famous Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Let its wholesome herbs and roots help Nature build up more physical resistance and tone up your system, so that it can more easily throw off the "blues" and give more energy to enjoy life.

MILLIONS of women have depended upon this Compound and have passed the word along to friends and neighbors, and to their children.

Why not take Pinkham's Compound and go "smiling thru"?

He ran into the hotel yelling the alarm. Along came a shining carriage and a pair of glossy horses, with the big Tammany men of the day, the three police commissioners and the dock commissioner. They leaped from the carriage and ran into the hotel. As they ran in, there was a fearful crash, followed by a cascade of sparks and glowing embers. The elevators had fallen. Scores of guests were trapped on the upper floors because the stairways and fire-escapes were cut off by walls of roaring flames.

I don't suppose New York ever saw a more dramatic scene. Here were 50,000 people jammed into that Fifth avenue block and the side streets—all wild with excitement and dread. The fire engines couldn't break through that crowd for precious minutes. The firemen couldn't get their hose lines connected. And by the time the engines got to pumping their feeble streams, flames were bursting from every window.

The thousands in the street saw firemen climbing scaling ladders and bringing down panic-stricken women and children—so frightened that they fought their rescuers, beating them in the face. They saw men and women leaping from the upper story windows and they could hear the awful thud of the bodies striking the pavement. Screams mingled with cheers as the onlookers watched men and women leap to their deaths and as they saw the gallant firemen snatching people from the roaring furnace.

Mr. Jay Gould saw two women appear at a window, shriek for help and fall back into the flames. He saw black figures silhouetted on the roof—then disappear into the raging furnace. The frightful fact was that people were dying back in the holocaust and nothing could be done about it—nothing.

Priests came and knelt in the fierce heat and asked the mercy of God. Tears streamed down the bearded cheeks of thousands of men who hadn't shed a tear since childhood. Women sobbed and screamed. The walls began to fall, crashing down and hurling showers of red hot bricks in all directions—injuring bystanders and firemen.

Miss Helen Gould had already transformed the brownstone mansion into an emergency hospital—with mattresses, sheets, pillowcases, nurses and two doctors. That mansion is there today, exactly as it was 40 years ago—except for a few scars of time.

Two hours had passed. The hotel by now was a smoldering ruin, only a section of one wall was left standing. Big Bill Devery, chief of police, stood by shaking his head. "Everything went wrong that could go wrong," growled Big Bill. And that about told the story of that tragic St. Patrick's Day.

Among the rescued were the sister of the president of the United States, and his brother's wife, and, too, a young woman who was, later, to make a great name for herself and die tragically on a bridge over the River Seine. Her name was Isadora Duncan.

It was not for many hours that the tale of tragedy was even half told. And then the record stood at 45 dead and 100 injured. And nobody knows to this day how many were missing—how many of whom there was no trace or record, unfortunately consumed to ashes in that fiery furnace.

EASY FISHING
(International News Service)
NEWPORT, Ore.—While a work crew was repairing a highway bridge near the coast, a huge breaker rolled up the creekbed, swamped workers and left a 22-pound red snapper in its wake. Crew and foreman had fish dinner that night.

CUPID GETS LAZY
(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA—Poor business conditions, war threats, or whatever the cause, only 12,825 altar-bound couples received marriage licenses at Philadelphia's city hall in 1938. The number was 1,218 below the 1937 figures, Paul Hackett, chief clerk, reported.

Babson Discusses Changes In Banking Business In Nation

By ROGER W. BABSON
Copyright 1939—Publishers Financial Bureau

PALM BEACH, Fla., March 17.—Few people realize the terrific changes which have taken place in the commercial banking business since 1929. If some banker had Rip Van Winkled himself in 1929 and awakened today, he would scarcely recognize the industry. Commercial banking has been revolutionized.

The spectacular decline in interest rates symbolizes this transformation. In 1929, New York banks charged their regular customers 5.88 per cent; today the rate is only 2.24 per cent—the lowest on record. The same trend has taken place in banks throughout the east and north of the country where current rates are 3.33 per cent against 6.04 per cent in 1929; and 4.09 per cent in southern and western districts against 6.14 per cent in the "good old days."

"Squeeze" On Depositors
As a result of the drop in rates which banks charge, the squeeze has been put on depositors. No interest is now paid on checking accounts, which formerly received two per cent. Savings deposits now get a paltry two or two-and-a-half per cent against three-and-a-half to four-and-a-half per cent in 1929. The loss of billions of dollars of commercial loans raised havoc with bank earnings. There are two reasons why this loan business passed out: First, business men have not wanted to borrow new money; and second, banks have been too timid about making loans. In not seeking intermediate and long-term business loans on the one hand and turning them down on the other, both the business men and the bankers are probably wise.

Checking account depositors naturally want to be able to use their money when they need it. If the bank lends it on a long-term business loan, it may be tied up in a pasteurizing plant for a dairy farm, a new wing for a factory, or a new department for a store. Naturally, those borrowing the money for such purposes cannot repay it in three months, or a year, or maybe in five years. Certainly, they cannot repay it at a moment's notice when depositors suddenly want their money. So this type of loan, no matter how necessary it is to the nation's prosperity, is now turned down by the banks.

Second Major Blow
The decline in good real estate mortgages was Blow Number Two. Formerly, a big portion of a bank's earning power came from real estate financing. The collapse of the real estate market from 1930 to 1934, plus errors in loan judgment, showed the folly of commercial banks financing a building boom. Recently, the F. H. A. insured mortgage plan has created new interest in home financing by banks, but many bankers are still wary and are taking only the choicest risks. Personal loans, once scorned by bankers, are avidly sought. Yet, these can never replace the once profitable commercial business and only offer competition to installment credit loans.

Both savings and commercial banks have always owned some public and corporate securities. Never were they emphasized as they are now, however. The watchword of today's banking philosophy is liquidity. It is stressed first, last and always. While corporate bonds may not be the last word in liquidity nor yield a very good return, they certainly are easier to turn into cash than a pasteurizer, a factory wing, or a store addition. This is one solution to the mystery of why three per cent corporate bond issues have been going over with such a bang. Bankers, however, are not so familiar with bond investments as they might be.

Loaded With "Governments"
Some bank examiners urge the purchase of U. S. Governments, declaring they are the safest bonds a bank can hold. Bankers like them, too, because they can be exchanged into dollar bills almost at a moment's notice. Illustrating this trend is the fact that over two-thirds of Member Bank investments are in "Governments" today, compared with about one-third in 1929. Meanwhile, deposits are steadily increasing—are about 100 per cent higher than in 1933 and are above the 1929 high. The bankers are just sitting tight, however, with the greatest reservoir of idle cash in history in their vaults.

The R. F. C., the Commodity Credit Corporation, the Farm Credit Administration, the Home Owner's Loan Corporation, the F. H. A., and others have robbed up some of the most profitable business the banks formerly had. We have gone a long way toward complete nationalization of credit! The private banks are fast becoming merely service organizations running the nation's huge checking business, caring for securities, operating a trust business, and buying government bonds. The gigantic credit agencies are now doing the loan job the banks once did.

New Angle For Uncle Sam
The immediate future does not look too hopeful either. The demand for intermediate and long-term business credit on an installment basis must be met. We must have such credit to stimulate recovery, to create new jobs, to make new products. Hence, the government may be in this branch of the credit business before too long with an Intermediate Credit Bank. The private banks will be financing this new setup just as they are all the public credit agencies by their vast purchases of government bonds; but the actual okaying of the credit will be done by Uncle Samuel.

So, with the outlook for more government credit, I see no hope of people receiving a better return on their deposits in the immediate future. Eventually, of course, general interest rates are bound to rise and at least savings deposits should yield a greater return. Despite this gloomy outlook for interest rates, depositors never had better protection for their dollars than they have today. But if the government does not do a better job on the budget, no one will dare to forecast what the buying power of these dollars may be.

Assails Civil Service Move

Move To Revise Civil Service Laws In State Is Under Fire

By RAYMOND WILCOVE
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, March 17.—The Tallman Bill to revise the Civil Service Laws by extending the probationary period of employment for some 6000 state employees would "destroy civil service," Sen. Harry Shapiro, ranking Democrat in the senate, today warned.

"This bill strikes at the very basis of the civil service system," said Shapiro, sharply attacking the bill introduced by Sen. Oscar J. Tallman, R., Lehigh.

Under the Tallman Bill the probationary period of employment for employees in the unemployment compensation division of the Department of Labor and Industry would be extended from nine months to one year and that of Public Assistance Department employees and the 67 county assistance boards from six months to a year.

Other Democrats, who in 1936 and 1937 helped pass the Civil Service Laws affecting the relief and unemployment compensation agencies, expressed the belief that the purpose of the Tallman Bill was to give the James administration the power to dismiss employees hired during the Earle administration.

May Settle Fate Of Pittsburgh Boy Believed Dying

Will Take X-Ray Pictures Of Tumorous Growth To See How Far It Has Progressed

(International News Service)

NEW ROCHELLE, N. Y., March 7.—The fate of two-year-old Harold Holt, Jr., rushed here by airplane from Pittsburgh, where doctors gave him only two more weeks to live because of a tumor, may be settled today in New Rochelle hospital.

Examinations were to be made of the boy today to trace the extent of the malignant growth which developed soon after birth.

Through these examinations, it will be decided whether X-ray therapy will cure the ailment or halt the tumorous condition spreading towards his liver, lungs and the one kidney remaining after an operation performed some time ago.

Dr. Alexander J. Chliko, roentgenologist at the hospital who has had marked success with two other similar cases, arranged for the child to come to New Rochelle. It is expected Dr. Chliko will be in charge of the preliminary X-ray investigations.

The child came here in a T.W.A. airliner and was rushed to the hospital with all possible speed to give him every possible extra precious minutes of life.

PARIS.—Three men and a woman are serving long jail sentences for their recent "perfect robbery" attempt to get 160,000 francs (about $4,800) from the vaults of a small bank. The quartet figured that by robbing a bank which had just jailed one of its executives for theft, the incumbent would be blamed for the additional crime. An inquisitive gardener spoiled the entire scheme, however.

DEFORMED CHILD SHOULD BE TRAINED TO A HAPPY AND USEFUL LIFE

Colored birthmarks, particularly when they occur on the face, are a source of embarrassment unless they are removed. These birthmarks are caused by deposits of pigment or coloring matter. We know very little about how this pigment is distributed—some of it going to the eyes, some to the skin, some to the hair. But every once in a while some of it will get misplaced, and then a birthmark is the result.

Superstitious people used to be much impressed by birthmarks. Often they would detect a pattern in the mark that had some meaning. But most of these marks don't resemble anything, and there isn't a bit of truth in the old theory that they are the result of some prenatal shock to the mother.

Quite often when a child is badly deformed, it will be found to be suffering from congenital heart disease as well. I am glad to say that there haven't been a great many abnormal babies born here during my practice. I think the reason for that is that the people here have a remarkably pure, strong blood strain. They come of a long line of simple farming folk, and their blood is clean of most of the taints that might cause deformities in children.

The mothers here live pretty normal lives, too. They work fairly hard and keep busy with their work all through pregnancy. Births are taken pretty much as an every-day occurrence; the average family here has from eight to ten children, and families of twenty aren't at all unusual.

Of course, even here we run into an occasional case of harelip and cleft palate. Sometimes, too, we will find a child born with all or part of a hand or a foot missing. This is usually because the cord became wrapped around the wrist or the ankle during pregnancy, stopping the circulation to that part.

I can't say that I have enough experience in deformed children to say whether it is true or not, but specialists have noted a tendency for it to strike first-born children.

In any case, if a child is deformed in such a way that a complete cure cannot be accomplished, the thing to do is to direct his education towards the trades or professions he will be able to enter in spite of his deformity. He should not be forced or coerced into a profession or trade just because the parents think his deformity wouldn't be a handicap there; that would be wrong and would probably defeat the whole purpose of the training. But he can have his interests directed in such a way that he will of his own free will pick on a life work that he likes.

Remember, if a child finds some method of expressing himself, some outlet for his energies that will not only keep him occupied, but will gain him recognition from his playmates, this child will in all probability develop along normal lines. It will help him to forget that he is different from other children.

No Decision In Coal Wage Parley

Negotiations Being Resumed At New York On Bituminous Coal Wage

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, March 17.—The fate of a bituminous coal industry wage pact in the hands of 32 representatives of the Appalachian mine operators' conference and the United Mine Workers of America from the same area remained unsettled today despite an afternoon's parleying.

The Appalachian wage conference—which provides the standard labor agreement ultimately affecting 600,000 workers throughout the country—was scheduled to continue at 10 a. m. today with consideration of the UMWA demands for a 50-cent daily wage increase—one dollar more than the operators offer to pay.

A 50-minute operator's caucus left tabled a union motion providing that in case of failure to negotiate a new contract before expiration of the present agreement March 31 the current standards be continued pending conference action. The operators dismissed the motion as "premature."

Friday morning Assembly Group 1 and 11 had the privilege of seeing motion pictures put on by the Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania. These pictures showed the students how to use a telephone. They told what to do and what not to do while using the telephone. Roberta Elder, can-trix, led the Senators in singing several well known songs, including "Annie Laurie", and "Twinkle, Twinkle, Little Star" in the Latin words. She was assisted at the piano by Esther Schaller.

Oliver Pisor introduced Leo Cohen, James Hares, Louis Monetta, Harold Adams, Hazel Ann Mark, Carolyn Cosel, and Annabelle Emery. These are the initiates first presented at the last meeting, who at this time completed their initiation by reciting the Pledge of Loyalty.

Only WILSON & CO. Makes Certified Smoked Ham

WILSON'S TENDER EXTRA MILD Certified SMOKED HAM

What a satisfaction it is to buy smoked ham that has just the right flavor—not too sharp, not too mild—but just perfect! You'll be delighted, too, with its succulent tenderness that makes each slice a pleasure to serve and a joy to eat. Look for the Orange wrapper.

WHY NOT BUY A WHOLE HAM?

In the long run it is more economical to buy a whole ham. Your dealer will cut two or three slices from the center to fry or broil. Bake the butt half. The other half will make an appetizing Ham and Vegetable Dinner. (See recipe)

HAM AND VEGETABLE DINNER RECIPE

Barely cover ham shank with warm water. Simmer 30 minutes to pound. Add 1/2 pint green beans broken in small pieces 45 minutes before ham is done. 20 minutes later add four medium potatoes cut in half, two carrots quartered lengthwise, four small onions cut in half, and a small cabbage core and quartered. Salt to taste. When vegetables are tender, remove skin from ham shank. Place ham on platter with vegetables. Serves four.

Annexation Of Cascade Park By City Likely

City Solicitor Tells Council Of Procedure By Which
It Can Be Done

TAX CONTROVERSY CAUSE OF PROJECT

Gilbert E. Long, assistant to the city solicitor, reported to council Thursday relative to council's instruction to report on the possible annexation to the city of Cascade Park.

"The advantage to the city of annexing Cascade park would be to eliminate township and school taxes in the future regardless of the outcome of the present tax controversy in the courts," he stated.

"After annexation an adverse decision would mean that the city must pay such back taxes as the court might direct and future county taxes. In case of a favorable decision, either with or without annexation there would be no taxes due or payable in which event annexation would not be so vital to the city."

"Cascade Park, according to the description in the deed to the city is a tract containing 79.4 acres, more or less. It so happens that the third class city law, section 515, makes provision for the annexation of a part of the township not exceeding 100 acres."

"It is provided that the property owners should petition council and thereafter the city shall petition the court of quarter sessions setting forth the facts and attaching a draft of the proposed annexation."

"It also provides for the appointment of three persons to investigate the facts and report to the court together with their recommendation."

These persons must not be residents of the city.

"We find no reported cases where a similar situation arose but we see no reason why the city might not petition under this provision of the law, in the event it was the desire of council to annex Cascade Park to the city."

"In the event that council should contemplate the annexation of more than 100 acres adjacent to the city, a very different procedure must be followed. In this situation the law provides for the petition on the part of a certain percent of the tax payers and property owners which we do not here discuss in detail for the reason that the Cascade Park tract, including less than 100 acres was the only one inquired about."

"We conclude by saying that the circumstances which must determine what action council would take would be an adverse decision on the part of the court in the pending action."

DAILY DOZEN

(From the Medical Society of the State of Pennsylvania)

March is the month for tonsillitis. Tonsillitis symptoms are similar to those of sore throat.

Difficulty in swallowing and rise in temperature appear.

These are symptoms of scarlet fever and diphtheria, too.

It is important to find out, early, which condition prevails.

Tonsillitis occurs mostly during childhood and adolescence.

The child first complains of pain from swallowing.

His throat is sore on pressure and looks red and inflamed.

He should be put to bed, even if there is no fever.

It may be either scarlet fever, diphtheria or tonsillitis.

The family doctor can differentiate and advise.

Sometimes it is advisable to have the tonsils removed.

Cambridge, third ranking industrial city of New England, has the largest plant in the world devoted exclusively to the manufacture of confectionery.

'Y' Team Leaders Get Drive Orders

Dinner Last Night Opens
Advance Work Of March
28-29 Campaign

SOLICITATION WILL BE STARTED SOON

Team captains and their co-workers last night launched the advance solicitation of the 1939 membership drive of the Young Men's Christian Association at a banquet in the "Y."

The dinner was provided by the association as a courtesy to the workers. "We owe the Y. M. C. A. a considerable, and during the next few weeks we should demonstrate that we realize it," the crowd of volunteers was told by Aler Samuels, president of the New Castle Community Chest and principal speaker of the evening.

Sidney L. Lockley, city controller, who will manage the Yankees in the "Yankees-Giants" campaign, presented Samuels. Lockley was chairman of the program.

Prospect Cards Passed Out

A batch of prospect cards, distributed by "Y" staff men, were being worked today as the advance activity started. General Secretary R. L. Meermans, who explained this year's ball game set-up to the team leaders, referred to the advance solicitation as "the first seven innings of our game."

He said the dinners on March 28 and 29 will constitute the eighth and ninth innings, the crucial period of play. That's when the score starts coming in. There'll be no news until then.

J. Clyde Gillfillan pronounced the invocation at the dinner. Howard Warnock, manager of the Giants in the campaign, led the singing and Judy Sypher presided at the piano.

Boys' teams of the campaign met several days ago in a rally of their own.

The drive will aim to bring in 800 memberships and $1,000 in cash.

Father Dunn Heard By K. Of C. Crowd

New Castle Knights of Columbus inaugurated their particular role in their national organization's "Enrollment for Christian Justice" at an enthusiastic rally in the K. of C. Home, North Jefferson street, last night.

They turned out in large numbers to hear a Youngstown clergyman, Rev. Fr. Dunn, pastor of St. Ann's church there, discuss the achievements of knighthood of the past and the possible achievements of modern knighthood in the future. He scored foreignisms that seek to take root in American soil.

Grand Knight Thomas Cunningham introduced the speaker, and explained that St. Mary's council will sponsor a series of speakers within the next few months. Joseph Howley, head of the local enrollment campaign, told of the excellent progress of the campaign. A smoker followed the address of Father Dunn.

Prague Gold Is Taken To Berlin

(International News Service)

LONDON, March 17.—Nazi storm troopers at Prague last night loaded 13 trucks with gold from the Czechoslovakian National Bank and set out with the precious metal for Berlin, the London Daily Telegraph reported today.

A Prague dispatch said the gold was valued at about $80,000,000.

Other advices from Vienna said it was estimated there that Germany by taking over Bohemia, Moravia and Slovakia, obtained approximately $1,000,000,000 in gold.

OHIO MAYOR WILL NOT ACCEPT SALARY

(International News Service)

CHARDON, O., Mar. 17.—The village of Chardon will have $24 extra this year to spend on "snow plowing or something else."

Newton B. Chapman, Chardon's mayor, who was elected as Geauga county's representative in the Ohio legislature, has announced that he will not resign from his office as mayor because of his election to the assembly. He said, however, that he would not draw his annual salary of $24.

"With my salary undrawn," he explained, "perhaps it can be used for more snow plowing or something else."

RAPID OCEANIC FLIGHTS COMING

(International News Service)

MILAN Mar. 17.—Flights from New York to Rome in 15 hours, around the world junkets in a week, and hops to the North Pole in two or three days in "flying yachts" within 10 years were predicted by Igor Sikorsky, noted American plane designer.

"At the very latest by 1940," said Sikorsky, "there will be regular passenger flights across the Atlantic."

Sikorsky stopped here in the course of a trip through European countries.

The giant flying boats, he said, will carry 80 to 100 persons, have six motors of 2,500 horsepower each and fly at 350 to 400 kilometers an hour. They will carry 30 tons of gasoline.

Plan Action On Important Bills

Leaders In Legislature Seek To Get Bills Out Of Committees

JAMES OPPOSES MERGER MEASURE

(International News Service) HARRISBURG, March 17.—Leaders in Pennsylvania's Republican-dominated legislature were planning to bring out of committees the remainder of the 1939 legislative program as the general assembly concluded the 11th week of activity. Speaker of the House Ellwood J. Turner said tax and relief measures have been discussed with Gov. Arthur H. James and it was assumed the proposals would have the governor's support. Turner said, however, that Governor James is opposed to the bill calling for merger of the Turnpike Commission and the General State Authority which was introduced in the house this week.

Not Many Changes It was indicated that the administration does not intend to ask many changes in the regulatory functions of the Public Utility Commission, but Governor James has said he sees "nothing wrong" with bills enabling him to dismiss commissioners for "political activity" and authorizing the senate to confirm PUC members by a straight majority rather than the present two-thirds majority.

Two measures calling for changes in the milk control law and the educational and welfare program are slated to be introduced early next week and Turner said they would be in keeping with the governor's budget program.

It was also revealed that action on the request of 219 school districts for financial aid would have to be delayed pending legislative action to provide necessary funds.

'General' Coxey To Seek Office At The Age Of 84

(International News Service) MASSILLON, O., — "General" Jacob S. Coxey, who led "Coxey's army" of unemployed to Washington in 1894, has entered the race for nomination to Congress on the Democratic ticket.

Declaring that the President "doesn't know how to cure the depression, and I want to show him," the 84-year-old campaigner expressed his support of President Roosevelt and outlined the following platform:

A moratorium on all federal taxes, including the income tax.

Printing Of Money Printing of nearly $54,000,000,000 in money to replace the present credit system of transacting business.

Appointment of a commission to devise a "just and equitable system of taxation to replace the present haphazard method."

Increase of WPA workers' wages from 60 cents to one dollar an hour with a 30-hour week.

Coxey claimed the support of the Workers Alliance in his campaign.

Shipbuilding Boom In Japan Tapering Off

(International News Service) TOKYO.—Reaction is believed to have come over Japan's shipbuilding boom, which has lasted since the Manchurian incident.

Except for shipyards which are building large vessels to the order of the Nippon-Yusen Kaisha and Osaka Shosen which are subsidized by the Government, no fresh orders have been received recently by other shipyards.

Steamship companies now are withholding shipbuilding orders, as they find it difficult to foresee developments in shipping circles.

Some shipowners are reported to have cancelled their previous orders with shipyards.

Expected to contribute several unwritten chapters on early American history, the find was made by M. R. Harrington, curator of the Southwest museum at Los Angeles whose colleagues judged the discovery "one of major importance to American archeology."

Harrington unearthed several crude implements left by this nomadic pre-glacial period hunter.

Spear Heads Found

"All turned topsy-turvy by recent ploughings," Harrington said, "the obsidian spear heads, scrapers, knives and drills, which were found, were those associated with the ancient Folsom people, so called from a discovery site in eastern New Mexico."

"The Folsom man, as archeologists know him, hunted giant bison and mammoth along the high western plains, for in many instances his finely-made spear tips have been found lying among the bones of those long extinct animals."

The museum curator added that because of the animals hunted by Folsom man, as well as the geology of the surroundings in which the remains of his prey were found, the time of his activity has been variously estimated from seven to approximately 15,000 years ago.

Climate Evidence Found

"Evidence of a cooler and moister climate in those days also aids in placing the approximate date," Harrington said.

"The spearheads are made of obsidian or volcanic glass and of jasper. This material was abundant at the site on which they were found and probably accounted for its prehistoric popularity as a camp ground," he pointed out.

Photographs of this prehistoric Californian's distinctive spearheads were first published in 1937, when Mr. and Mrs. William H. Campbell of the Southwest museum discovered several implements on the shore line of the now dried up Lake Mohave in the Mohave desert.

COULD ATTACH PEW

(International News Service) BOSTON, Mass.—Nearly a century ago it was legal to attach a church pew. Records unearthed by the Historical Records Survey of the Works Progress Administration showed that in 1846 a deputy sheriff of Suffolk county attached a pew in the First Universalist society in order to satisfy a bill brought against a member of the congregation.

Christina of Sweden, succeeding her father to the throne in 1632, when only six years old, took the ruling power in her hands when 18 years of age, and six years later, in accordance with her manish desires, was crowned king instead of queen.

Find Traces Of Ancient Folsom Man

(International News Service) SACRAMENTO, Cal.—Fertile furrows of a plaid walnut grove near Lakeport have yielded possible traces of ancient Folsom man, who, 15,000 years ago, roamed the rain-swept western plain in search of bison and mammoth.

Expected to contribute several unwritten chapters on early American history, the find was made by M. R. Harrington, curator of the Southwest museum at Los Angeles whose colleagues judged the discovery "one of major importance to American archeology."

Harrington unearthed several crude implements left by this nomadic pre-glacial period hunter.

American Foot Getting Larger Expert Reveals

(International News Service) PORTLAND, Ore.—The American foot is getting larger right along, and that includes women as well as men, according to Jesse Adler of New York, director of the National Shoe Retailers association.

Adler made his observation while attending a Shoe Retailers' convention in Portland. He admitted, however, he didn't expect feet to grow out of proportion to the rest of the body.

"Golf and a variety of other outdoor sports which keep men and women on their feet more than before probably are the chief causes of larger feet in America," Adler said, "and in future generations we probably can expect a nation of physically larger men and women."

An official geologist's report gives Texas the greatest petroleum reserves in the United States, with California second.

LAW FIXED SO MUSICIANS CAN PASS HEALTH BAN

BUDAPEST.—A "crisis" in the Gypsy Musician industry of Hungary's gay capital has been settled successfully.

Recently, a health edict forbade Gypsies from crossing the Danube bridges between Buda and Pest—the west and east parts of the Capital respectively—because of the hoof and mouth disease which had afflicted cattle of the districts west of the river. It was feared the oxen and cows of the wanderers might import the disease into districts of the east.

Consequently no Gypsies could get across from Buda into Pest, even when they were riding a trolley car, sans cattle or horses. Policemen patiently explained that the law said "Gypsies," and did not specify "Gypsies with cattle."

Restaurant and cafe owners fearing a shortage of musicians, drafted an urgent appeal to health authorities at an emergency meeting.

Within an hour the problem was solved when authorities ruled that the edict did not concern Gypsy musicians.

Indian Relics Of 19th Century Found In Oregon

(International News Service) KLAMATH FALLS, Ore.—Believed to be relics of the middle nineteenth century, a skull, several beads and buttons and a quantity of ochre which were uncovered in a cave on the high desert of Lake county have been placed on exhibition at the Lava Beds National monument.

The relics were uncovered by two residents of Klamath Falls, William Burnett and Earl Kent.

Ochre, officials pointed out, was used by Indians for war paint. They believe the skull was that of a young brave who fell in battle with United States troops which were stationed in the Lake county area in the middle of the nineteenth century.

When an automobile accident has occurred, it is usually best to leave an injured person where he is, keep his warm, and wait arrival of an ambulance.

Jury At Beaver Is Deliberating On Man's Life

Charge Louis Tolento As "Trigger Man" In Slaying Of Monaca Liquor Salesman

(International News Service)
BEAVER, Pa., March 17. — In the hands of the jury today rested the fate of Louis Tolento, 40, charged with being the "trigger man" in the beer-war slaying of Tony Spitalo, Monaca liquor salesman.

The prosecution has maintained throughout the trial that the salesman was lured to a lonely spot near the Ohio river by Tolento, who then killed him in order to obtain about $500 from another beer dealer.

Virgil E. Reynolds, who has already pleaded guilty in connection with Spitalo's death, said he saw Tolento fire the shots which killed Spitalo.

Tolento, on the other hand, has steadfastly asserted that he was in Alliance, O., at the time of the shooting. His story was corroborated by a relative, Mrs. Josephine Lolli, who testified she and her husband played bridge with Tolento that night.

A coroner's jury returned a verdict of suicide in the death of Frank Cutronal, 60, Rochester beer dealer, whose body was found in an automobile outside his place of business only a few hours before Tolento's trial started.

News Briefs From City Hall

Police received a report of the theft of chains from the auto of R. M. Wilson, R. D. 2, parked in a lot near Beaver and South street, last night.

H. L. Ramsey today requested police to prevent boys entering an unoccupied house at 1614 East Washington street.

The term "milk leg" used for a condition that sometimes develops after childbirth, originated from the mistaken but popular notion that the leg became filled with milk. Milk leg really is phlebitis in an acute form complicated by an inflammation of connective tissue between the muscles and skin.

Czecho-Slovak Counsel In Dark As To His Status

Consul At Pittsburgh Has Received No Orders From German Officials

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, March 17.—Declaring himself completely in the dark as to his official status, young Dr. R. Jan Papanek, scholarly Czecho-Slovak consul here, nevertheless continued his routine duties today.

The consul said he had received no orders concerning his post or staff of assistants. Although German officials in Washington yesterday announced their intention of taking over the Czecho-Slovak embassy, the German consul in Pittsburgh, W. F. Knopfel, was in the hospital and could not be seen.

Dr. Papanek's only comment was: "We are continuing to look out for the interests of the people. The people are still ours."

Snow Ties Up Auto Traffic

Auto traffic was tied up on North Jefferson street and Highland avenue hills because of a sudden snowfall about 8:30 a. m. today and there were many telephone calls to the police department for ashes.

The police immediately relayed the calls to the street department. Trucks of that department were engaged in other work. It was said by street department attaches.

However, they turned to the ashing of streets at 9:45 a. m.

East Washington and State street hills were slippery but traffic was not congested.

Keystones-Falcons To Play For Title In Floor Tourney

Second Annual City-County Basketball Tourney Draws To Close Tonight

Championship Game At 7:30 O'Clock, Factor Girls To Play

Tonight at the George Washington high gym floor a new City-County basketball championship team will be crowned, and it will be the Keystones A. C. or the Falcons. The game tonight marks the close of the tourney which started over a week ago with 24 teams. General Chairman Tony Conn announced that the title game will start at 7:30 o'clock.

Expect Big Crowd
Indications point to a packed gym as the two fine club teams battle for the highest honors in the city and county. Coach Andy "Coots" Venturi of the Keystones expects a big crowd to see the game. He expects the Falcons to have the edge, having met a better brand of opposition than did the Falcons.

Two Fine Teams
The Keystones in reaching the finals rode over the Falcons 47 to 18. The Madison Avenue Christians 64 to 26, and the N.Y.A. 30-23. The Falcons in reaching the pinnacle climbed over such teams as the Plainville Indians 49-28, the St. Nicholas 34-11, and the Castle Five 34-18. The Keys really have the edge, having met a better brand of opposition than did the Falcons.

The Falcons had best watch out. The boys have been "hot" in the tourney to date and make life miserable for the Keystones. Then too there is Nickie Gennock, a fine guard and a good scorer. The Keys had better get a weather eye peeled on Eddie Kozela, Henry Kozela and Sniezek, the three top-notchers on the Falcon lineup. Anyone of these boys can break up a ball game.

Factors Will Play
Following the main game, and the presentation of the various prizes and trophies, Joe Factor will send his Variety girls out to play the Eastern Ohio championship Struthers girls team, and this should prove an interesting attraction. The Struthers girls are undefeated so far this year and will risk their fine record here.

Factor will have the following girls in his lineup—Mildred Dewberry, Helen Uram, "Tooty" Reiter, Jean Cerutti, Pauline Mizak, Theresa Janoski, Leona Wenda, Mary Mesall, and Anna Hensley. The girls will play boys rules and a good game is anticipated.

Officials Are Named
Sid Lockey, tourney official, today announced that the championship game tonight will be handled by Austin Cowmesdow and Carl "Cacky" Gennock, members of the Lawrence County Referees' association. The officiating in the tourney that is closing has been of the highest type and has helped to make the tourney a success.

Henry Armstrong knocked out Lew Feldman of Brooklyn in first round of scheduled 15-round fight at St. Louis in successful defense of welterweight and lightweight championships.

Benefit Game At Shenango Tonight
Castlewood Champions Will Play All-Stars To Help Injured Player
There will be a benefit basketball game tonight at the Shenango high school gymnasium for the benefit of the injured Harmony Baptist player. The admission cost will be ten cents and it is hoped that the gym will be packed. The Savannah team, champs of the Castlewood floor league, will play an all-star team picked from the league. The game will start at 7:30 o'clock. In the preliminary game the Butler Road girls will play an independent girls team. The Savannah lineup will consist of VanEman and Body at the forwards, Drushel at center and Craig and Weir at the guards. The all-stars will have Cole and Henderson at the forwards, Stiers at center and Maricone and Baldwin at the guards. In reserve Savannah will have Bob Houk, Jim Irvine, Harold Shaffer, J. Pack and N. City Baseball Loop Discussion Set For Tonight

Managers And Officials Will Gather At St. Joseph's Paris Hall At 8:30 O'Clock

Discussion of the third season for the City Baseball League will take place tonight at 8:30 o'clock at the St. Joseph's parish hall on South Jefferson street with Father Peter Michael Schirra, president of the league in charge of the meeting. The meeting is open to all managers of the city who care to enter teams in the league this summer. The West Pittsburgh team will be represented by Manager Danny DeGenova and will be back to try for its third straight championship.

Several Fine Teams
There are several clubs in the league willing to dispute the West Pittsburgh third-time aspirations, mainly the Lawrence Indies, West Side Tigers and Elder A. C., if they take out a franchise in the league, which the officials are hoping they will, and the K. Pulaski team, according to Alexander "Lefty" Maslyk.

It is hoped that a fast eight or ten team league can be made up here this summer. No report has been heard from Ryantown, and presumably this ball club will not be in the league when it starts its third year in May. The teams expected to have franchises are—West Pittsburgh, Elder A. C., Red Sox, Union Civics, K. Pulaski, West Side Tigers, Mahoning A. A., Lawrence Indies, Slovak A. C. and St. Joseph's.

Name Commissioners
Secretary Michael Babovsky said today that contracts will be printed very shortly and will be distributed to the managers for the signing of players. Mr. Babovsky also states that several of the clubs did not take their franchise out of the bank last year and are all set in this regard.

A board of commissioners will be named by the managers tonight to be headed it is understood by that veteran of the ball diamond of yesterday back in his home town of Wilkes-Barre and more recently here—Norman Buckingham, a well-known sports figure, and former coach of the Eintracht basketball team, Penn-Ohio champs. Arnold Fraser, another old timer is also slated for a post on the board. Walter Hub Hart, veteran catcher has also been strongly mentioned for a post on the board. There are also several others under consideration.

Moran Training Hard For Bout
Goes Through Strenuous Training With Arkett For Monday Fight

MORGAN FERRAND BOUT LOOKS GOOD

Frankie Moran, flashy featherweight of this city, is training strenuously with Chuck Arkett, West Pittsburgh lightweight, for his three-round bout at The Arena, Monday night.

He went on the road yesterday, punched both big and small bags, tugged at the weight machines, rode several miles on the gymnasium bicycle then boxed six rounds with Arkett, who will fight Johnny Wargo, Pittsburgh.

"I want to be in the best possible condition of my career when I meet Buz," Moran said yesterday after enjoying a shower bath and a rub. "If I can dispose of him through a knockout I will be elated," Moran said.

"He is in very good condition and his eye for distance is good," said Chuck Arkett, who is also scheduled to fight. "He nailed me with a left that shook my head yesterday," said Arkett, who is a hard chap to hurt.

Moran has always put up good fights. On some occasions he has dropped fighters with his right, although his left is his best weapon. He stands up well under punishment and is game, never asking nor receiving quarter.

Another prospective good fight on the card should materialize when Vic Ferrand of Pittsburgh and Steve Morgan, Youngstown's middleweight meet. Steve is training in the Bethany college gym. He is a student there.

Ferrand weighed 170 pounds when he was decided by Benny Bartle at Ellwood City. He believes he was too heavy to out-box Bartle. He hopes to weigh about 165 when he enters the ring against Morgan.

There are eight bouts in all. The Jefferson A. C. is holding the show. However, the West Side Tigers will benefit because they will receive a portion of the receipts with which to purchase baseball uniforms.

Rambling Around World Of Sports

Local sport fodder... Friend Jack Henry, a Pittsburgh typewriter jockey, picked Newton, New Wilmington high guard, on his all-W. P. I. A. L. silver medal team. Henry rates the diminutive star as one of the classiest performers in the colorful event. Paul Minner, high scorer, was given an honorable mention berth. There's a rumor buzzing 'round local baseball camps. Those who say they know claim Paul McCullough and Docie Gunnett, two of the classiest twirlers, will tie-up with West Pittsburgh. Mickey Huff, one of the slickest infielders here, is one of the happiest guys in the world. His recently born son is a dead-ringer for Charley Gehring of the Detroit Tigers, says Mickey. Prez Dem Costello, boss of the "lumps", says his gang is all set for the season. "They showed me they were in tip-top shape at a meeting this week. They were calling 'em in mid-season style," says the gen. Dem.

Diamond stuff... One of nicest things about the training camp of the Pittsburgh Pirates in San Bernardino: The Arrowhead. Hot Springs steam caves where the Pirates players take a session to shave off a few extra pounds. Joe DiMaggio tagged Van Lingle Mungo's initial pitch of the year for a slashing double. Which caused followers of the Daffers to mumble, "He hasn't changed a bit. The same Mungo." Aside to the Phillies: After reading that you lads lost three straight games, Philly fans doubled their order for eggs, tomatoes and what not. You know they've been doing a little spring training themselves, at rassing matches. Ask some of the wrestlers who have appeared in Philly. Carl Hubbell started off O. K. He hit a bingo jackpot which netted him $471. The Cincinnati baseball club has received only 56,000 requests for the opening battle of the season which brings the Reds and Pirates together. Crosley field seats but 30,000. The Pirate office reports a brisk demand for the Bucs' opener, April 18.

Odds and ends... Between 40 and 50 women have taken up wrestling as a career in the United States. Leaders in the "feminine wrestling" racket include: Dolly Dalton, Atlanta; Clara Mortenson, Mobile, Ala.; "Tiger Lil" Wesson, Richmond, Va.; Sonja Henie is Norwegian, inherited on her ma's side. In 1924, Frank Caruna, Buffalo, bowled two 300 games in one night. It has been estimated that more than 5,000,000 persons play softball each year in the United States. Babe Ruth led the American league in home runs 11 times. He was tied with Lou Gehrig a 12th time.

EX-HI Y WINS TWO
The Ex-Hi Y basketball team won two games this past week, topping the Lincoln Zephyrs last Monday 40 to 27 with Byers and Meermans starring, and then taking over the Shenango Outlaws on Tuesday night by the tune of 33 to 31 with Byers, Woolcock and Meermans the scoring stars.

Castles-N. Y. A. Are Defeated In Tournament

Falcons Upset Castle Five 34
To 18 And Keystones
Whip N. Y. A. 30-23
On Thursday

SEMI-FINALS PROVE SPEEDY

The Polish Falcons last night eliminated the Castle Five from the second annual City-County basketball tournament at the Washington high court after a fast four periods, 34 to 18, to enter the finals tonight.

Falcons Too Strong
The Castles put up a fine battle for the first three periods, but seemed to wilt in the fourth and final stanza. The first period ended 8 to 7 with the Falcons in front, and at the half it was 16 to 13. The third period closed 29 to 15, and in the final eight minutes the Falcons put the pressure on and counted 14 points to three for the Castles and a fine team went out of the tourney.

Eddie "Cash" Koszela, one of the tourney standouts, was high point man with 13. He played a great game. Sniezek and Henry Koszela also played fine ball for the Falcons.

For the Castle Five, the work of Bob Pitzer, Fritz Pitzer and Jap Covelli was by far the best.

Keystones Top N. Y. A.

In the second semi-final game last night the Keystone A. C. under Coach Andy Venditto, took the measure of John Rubels and his N. Y. A. team 30 to 23 in a rough and tumble affair. The Keys led at the first period 8 to 3, and at the half it was tied up, tighter than a drum, at 14-14.

Play was fast and furious in the third stanza and it was again "Even Stephen" when the timer's whistle ended the inning at 21-21. In the fourth and final period the Keys playing a steady brand of basketball now, led by Nickie Gennock started for the home stretch and left the N. Y. A. boys in the lurch.

N. Gennock Stars
Harry Toscano was the only N. Y. A. player able to score consistently through the tricky defense of the Keys. Nickie Ross played his customary fine guarding game for the losers. Outside of Nickie Gennock, the Keys scoring was rather evenly divided between Bus Strausbaugh, Nocera and Rags Gennock.

American College In India Finds Natives Of Varying Castes Studying In Harmony

(International News Service)
BOSTON—Young Indian natives of many castes and varying religions live and study together in harmony at American College, Madras, India, President Edgar M. Flint said before leaving to take up his duties at the college.

President Flint, a native of Toronto, Ont., is a graduate of Rochester University. He also took special work at Columbia. A research chemist before he went to India with the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions, President Flint worked as a professor at the college for nearly twenty years. He was appointed president last year.

"Our students resemble American students in many respects," he said. "They enter college with a serious purpose of obtaining an education and a large portion come at great sacrifice on the part of parents or other relatives."

Four Religions Represented
Religions represented among the student body, according to President Flint are Hindus, Christians, Brahmins and Muslims.

The college, which was founded was about a week old is a pal of the family cat.

The two eat from the same saucer—provided the food is to the robin's liking. Both agree on bread and milk—and hamburger.

The robin sometimes apes the cat. The bird bathes every morning in a big bowl of water on the kitchen linoleum and then goes behind the stove to get dry, just like the cat when he comes in wet.

The bird has also been trained by Miss Hallock so that it sits on her shoulder or can be fed from her hand.

Mike Jacobs reveals that Uncle Sam has taken more than $400,000 in taxes from his fight promotions last year.

There are 3,300 species of fish in the waters of North America.

Farm Tractor Drivers Told To Be Cautious

(International News Service)
CHICAGO—Heavy farm tractors that occasionally topple over on their drivers today took a place among vehicles against which safety experts sounded a warning.

The safety department of the Illinois Agricultural Association disclosed the role such equipment plays in the national motor death toll in this statement:

"Tractor operators in attempting to drive across ditches and deep gullies, or to pull loads too heavy for the machines, are risking serious injury and perhaps death. Each spring, from three to six Illinois farm folk are crushed to death when these heavy implements overturn on them. The next hour for tractor accidents hrs. arrived.

How Accidents Happen
"Usually the operator's attention is focused on the draw bar or the load, and he fails to notice the front wheels of the tractor leave the ground until too late for him to leap free."

"If it's a question of saving a few minutes by driving around to level ground, or asking a tractor to your lap by cutting across a ditch, by all means take the slow but safe way."

The department also cautioned drivers of horse-drawn farm implements against the annual spring

toll. A dangerous and common practice, it was pointed out, is that of tying the lines together and slipping them around the drivers' waist. If something frightens the team the driver is in a tough spot, whereas lines slipped over the necks can be disengaged should the team bolt.

The New York Yankees are heavy favorites to cop the American League pennant this year again while in the National League—rough and tumble battle looms for the Cincinnati Reds get out front and stay there, according to Lawton Carver, INS sports editor.

Further Decline
In Stock MarketDevelopments In Europe
Are Reflected In Early
Trading TodayBy LESLIE GOULD
International News Service Financial Writer

NEW YORK, March 17.—The stock market broke further today under the weight of new developments in the critical European situation. Losses ran from 1 to more than 3 points, with selling fairly heavy from the opening.

The principal European markets again reflected the general nervousness on the continent. London, Amsterdam and Paris displayed a weak undertone, although a partial recovery was effected in London before the close. Alien currencies also were lower, particularly the Swiss franc, but their losses were recovered in later dealings.

Steels, motors, chemicals, aviation, rubbers and blue-chips suffered the largest declines, but no group was spared in the general selling movement. First hour sales amounted to 500,000 shares.
